

Voyages Applications

Five tools to make Voyages a valuable travel resource:

Mobile Concierge

- Once you're on your trip, Voyages comes with you and acts as your personal concierge.
- Voyages knows all the details of your trip so it can help you plan activities, change reservations, find the right restaurant, get the perfect gift.
- Mobile web interface (also available via PC for those who bring their laptop along) that's fast. The menu items and options you see are directly related to your trip.
- Voyages can even alert you via SMS if a storm is moving in or concert tickets have become available.
- Store your credit card information with Voyages at the time of planning your trip and make actual transactions through your phone
- Where available, your phone will act as your mobile electronic ticket, displaying the right "bar code" to get you into events.

Browser Travel Agent

- Similar to how shopping sites like Kaboodle, ThisNext, and Pronto provide a Bookmarklet that gives users an "Add to..." button on their browser's bookmark bar so they can mark items as they go to various websites.
- The "Save to Voyages" bookmarklet will allow you to send to your Voyages account any travel-related item you find on the Web.
- Say you are reading an article on CNN.com about Mardi Gras in Rio. Clicking on the "Save to Voyages" button in the browser bookmark bar brings up an overlay right on the CNN page. It automatically picks out travel-related terms such as locations, properties, events, etc. and allows you to add those to a Voyages research list along with any other terms you'd like to add.
- When you return to Voyages.com, all the terms you've added in your web travels have formatted and organized search results pages for them with all the information available on the Voyages platform. You can immediately start putting together a trip based on what you've saved.

Voyages Planning Widget

- Available for Social Networks (Facebook, MySpace, and the new Open Social platform) and the desktop (a Mac Widget and a Windows Gadget).
- Allows you to begin creating your itinerary from anywhere you are. Access the powerful Voyages search tools, browse for the latest packages by location and interest. Get information on properties.
- Anything you start is saved to your Voyages account so you can continue with whatever you were doing and return to Voyages.com to finish your travel planning.

Voyages Sharing Widget

- Available for Social Networks (Facebook, MySpace, and the new Open Social platform)
- Allows you to assemble a multimedia presentation from your trips including photos, text, and even video. You can customize the size, colors, font choices, even background music.
- Embed the widget on your SN page and share the details of your travels with your friends.
- All the locations in your widget are "live," so people visiting your SN profile can find out more about any location, getting capsule information directly from Voyages, and then continue to Voyages to plan their own trip.

Group Planner

- Ever try to plan a trip with a group of friends? Someone has to act as the secretary and keep track of everyone's information, tabulate everyone's interests and votes on activities.
- The Voyages Group Planner does all the work for you. A single page where your entire group can collaborate on a trip and update each other on their individual details.
- Includes a calendar with color coding for each group member, a master checklist where each member's confirmations are recorded, post-it notes where you can alert other group members to important information and changes.
- It also includes suggests for group activities from Voyages based on the expressed interests of the group and their destination. Each person in the group can sign up and Voyages will automatically reserve the activity based on how many people sign up.
- After the trip, the group can use the Group Planner to share photos, video, memories and more and export those to their Voyages Sharing Widget.
- Also integrates into the Voyages Planning Widget.
